SUMMARY

As a Software Engineering student at CCIT, Faculty of Engineering, University of Indonesia, I have a high level of enthusiasm and strong dedication to information technology. Additionally, I possess skills in programming languages such as Java, and have experience in web development using HTML, CSS, and JavaScript. I also have a good knowledge of database design and SQL language. Furthermore, I have a strong interest in UI/UX design and proficient in design software like Figma. Throughout my academic journey, I have been involved in various relevant projects and continuously strive to enhance my skills by keeping up with the latest technology developments and industry trends.
